

Institutional Learning Outcomes

January 2004, updated December 2010

All Philadelphia University graduates:

1. Possess a breadth and depth of professional skills informed by the liberal arts and sciences.
2. Apply multi-disciplinary and collaborative approaches as a means of succeeding in dynamic, complex career environments.
3. Integrate theory and practice to inform research and guide creative decisions in their professional fields.
4. Interpret and value diversity in both local and global communities.
5. Are prepared to be ethically responsible citizens in the personal, professional and civic spheres.
6. Are prepared to bring innovation to their fields and anticipate future directions in their professions by adapting to social, environmental and economic change.

Graduate students meet these outcomes, but demonstrate learning at a higher level.
